URGES ANTI-STORAGE LAWS

Washington, Aug. 13.—Organized opposition of the packing interests to any comprehensive cold storage regulation law was predicted yesterday by Senator McKeller (Democrat), Tennessee, before the House Agricultural Committee. He urged the framing and adoption of stringent legislation which would cover the period of storage and be of such a haracter that it could not be evaded.

Senator McKelar asserted "the five great packers" practially had a monopoly on cold storage, adding that they had disregarded entirely the law of supply and demand.

BOY'S ARROW KILLS

"Cowboy" Was Snapping Pistol as Missile Entered Eye

New York, Aug. 13.—Charged with killing another boy in play. Irving Dezendorf, 7 of Brooklyn, was arraigned before Acting Justice Charles Dodd in the Children's Court.

The killing was clearly an accident. Irving was paroled in the custody of his father until Friday.

The pathetic feature of the children's tragedy was that the dead boy was Irving's best playmate. He was Joseph Murphy, 8.

"Let's play cowboy and Indian," said Josie. "I'll attack you now and then chase you up the block to the empty lot. We can fight it out there."

Josie, the cowboy, ran across the street, snapping his toy pistol at Irving. the Indian. The game appealed to Irving's boyish fancy. He fitted a short piece of umbrella rib into his improvised weapon, took aim and fired the missile at his chum.

"Duck, Josie!" he cried, just as he released the arrow.

But Josie did not duck soon enough. The arrow found its mark in the young "cowboy's" left eye, and Josie fell to the ground screaming. Irving dropped his bow and pulled the arrow from his friend's eye. Then he helped some adults to carry the injured boy into Irving's home.

A few hours before his playmate died Irving was taken to the hospital by a detective.

"Yes," said Irving, "I shot him. He didn't duck quick enough."

So after Josie died Irving was arrested. He didn't quite understand what it was all about, but he knew instinctively that something very serious was wrong, and he cried bitterly.

"How terribly this boy will feel when he realizes what he has done!" said Justice Dodd in the Children's Court.

TURNS GUN ON SELF AFTER FIRING TWO BULLETS

Washington, Aug. 13.—Leveling a revolver at Clair Berhm Nye, paying teller at the Munsey Trust Company, Fifteenth and H streets, northwest, shortly after 10:30 o'clock this morning, John B. Fetzer, 34 years old, of Defiance, Ohio, fired two shots at the teller when his demand for $150 was refused, and then turned the revolver on himself sending a bullet through his jaw.

Nye dodged from view just as the report of the two shots sounded. Louis Edward Donaldson, another bank employe, received a slight wound on the right cheek from one of the bullets. The second went wild.

Fetzer turned the revolver on himself as he was leaving the bank. The bullet passed through his jaw and then through the front plate glass window of the bank. He was conscious when an ambulance from the Emergency Hospital arrived. It is said he will recover.

The General's Statement says that if he surrendered himself to the Allies he would recognize a procedure which he considers "mocks all sense of justice."

SEEK HEIR TO $15,000 IN THIS CITY

Fortune Awaits Herman Thurlow—Left By Uncle In Germany

REPORTED TO BE HERE

Boy Who Is But 16 Years of Age Missing From Baltimore Home Since Last December.

Herman Thurlow, 2032 East Pratt street, Baltimore, who has been missing from home since last December, is an unconscious heir, for word has been received by his parents that the lad has been left $15,000 by an uncle in Germany. It is thought that the boy, who is but 16 years old, has enlisted in the Navy under an assumed name.

The first clue to the whereabouts of the boy was given by Charles Hermann, 1725 Bank street, who claims to have seen him drilling in the Norfolk Navy Yard. The friend called to the missing boy, hailing him by his name. An immediate reply came: "Don't call me Thurlow; call me Walsh."

The friend had no further opportunity to speak as both were drilling in separate companies. Charles Hermann wrote this information in a letter to his mother, and when he came home on leave last month he substantiated these statements, but added that he had not seen the lad since.

When Thurlow left home he was dressed in his working clothes. He left as usual for his work at the Baltimore Dry Docks Company. Investigation has proved that he drew his pay on that Saturday morning. His mother has been to Philadelphia and Alexandria, Va., at which places he had been reported at various times.

CIDER IS NOT VINOUS

Palmer So Rules When Farmers Ask Where They Stand

Washington, Aug. 13.—Farmers are afraid to convert their apples into cider lest they be arrested under the prohibition laws. They do not know where they are on this question. Requests for a clear-cut ruling from the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Internal Revenue are being sent to Congressmen.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, upon the receipt of a letter from a constituent, asking him whether or not he has a right to make cider of his fruits, and if so under the present what disposition he can make of it. Mr. Simmons took the matter up with Attorney General Palmer, who replied:

"The present law prohibits the manufacture and sale only of distilled spirits or malt or vinous liquors Whether cider can be regarded as a vinous liquor has been a matter of very considerable doubt. I have, however, advised the Secretary of the Treasury that it is not a vinous liquor and therefore not prohibited by the prohibition law. I understand, however, that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue rules that cider is subject to a tax if it is sold as wine, and that it is subject to the soft drink tax if put up and sold in bottles."

BUTTS CAR OFF TRACK

Big Bull Tosses Car to Edge of 60-Foot Ravine

Beaver Falls, Pa., Aug. 13.—This is the story of the bull which unlike the famed one of tradition that met disastrous failure when it threw itself against the oncoming locomotive was eminently successful when it set out to butt a street car off the tracks.

The incident occurred near Eckert Stop, between Ellwood City and Zelinople. The bull, a big red one, escaped from a pasture near the Harmony route, and when it saw the big interurban car coming it trotted close to the tracks, eyed the car malevolently and lowered its head. When the car, rolled along at slow speed, was about 30 yards away, the bull charged. It struck the front of the car, head-on, with terrific force. the car was derailed and toppled over to the edge of a 60-foot deep ravine skirting the tracks at that point. Here the car, partly overhanging the ravine, remained while the six panic-stricken passengers and crew crawled to safety None was hurt seriously, though all were shaken up.

A repair crew, summoned to the scene, put the car back on the tracks, but the bull was beyond aid. It had accomplished the feat it set for itself but had died in the performance. Its neck was broken.

GAMBLING FEVER RAGES

German Resorts Scenes of Heavy Losses By Individuals Who Made Fortunes During War.

Gambling is on the increase throughout Germany to an alarming extent, according to German newspapers.

This is said to be due partly to the higher living of individuals who made fortunes during the war by Government contracts or otherwise.

At Bad Nauheim three gambling houses have been running day and night for some time and the German newspapers refer to the place as a second Monte Carlo.

Regarding conditions at Bad Nauheim the Frankfuter Zeitung recently declared: "The demoralizing effect of the three gambling resorts erected in Bad Nauheim during the period of the Soldiers' Council is now seen in its grossest form.

Following the scene of a week ago when a summer guard threw his revolver in the center of the gambling hall at the Villa Heinemann after losing 30,000 parks in an hour, another guest, said to be from Frankfort, was found murdered in one of the parks.

The investigating committee summoned from Giessen ascertained that the murder had been committed by a thief. The murdered man had won 70,000 marks at the "Club 1919" in the Grand Hotel on the night he was killed.

One the way to his quarters he was shot in the back and all his money stolen.

At the Bristol Hotel it is said that a German woman recently lost 35,000 marks by gambling and could not pay her hotel bill so she was obliged to auction her clothing and valuables.

Another man from Frankfort lost 50,000 marks one Sunday afternoon at the Villa Heinemann and a day before another guest lost as much as 700,000 marks.

UNDER STRAITS

By Rail From London to Senegal Possibility of Near Future

If it is feasible to tunnel the English Channel, 20 miles in width it is even more feasible to tunnel the Strait of Gibraltar, which is but 8 miles wide at its narrowest point I do not imagine that such a man as Samuel Rea, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, would hesitate at such a job.

This would mean that it would be an easy matter indeed to send a through train from London, under the English Channel, across France and Spain, the selfsame Strait of Gibraltar and straight to the wonderful new port of Dakar, which the French have been so quietly constructing these past few years in Senegal at almost the extreme western most point of Africa.

There the Atlantic is narrow indeed. An ordinary fast steamer can cross from Dakar to South America in four to five days, while the traffic experts in London figure out that, with such a through rail route from Charing Cross or Victoria to Rio de Janeiro will be but eight days and Buenos Aires nine days distant from London; with Sandiago de Chile, by means of the Trans-Andean Railroad, only two days farther.

GERMAN ARMY

Still on War Footing Says Berlin Paper

Berlin August 13. — Headlined "Where's the Demobilization?" Die Freiheit features charges from an alleged well-informed military source that billions of public funds still are squandered for the maintenance of the German army on a war footing. "While, far from demobilizing, high pressure recruiting continues.

Die Freiheit asks: "Why all this saber-rattling still? What do we need the highest leadership now for?

"Volunteer troops maintained on a war footing are an open declaration of war against the peaceable working populatin. It is high time this one-sided emphasis of the state of war be ended by demobilization."

PRINCE OF WALES

The Prince of Wales landed from the battleship Renown at Topsail, a fishing village on Conception bay, for his first visit to Newfoundland soil yesterday. After remaining for a few hours he returned to the warship. He arived at St. John's today at noon and rode through an enthusiastic crowd lining two miles of city streets over which decorated arches had been erected.

Fifty-nine years have passed away since an heir apparent to the British throne visited the American continent. In 1866 Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, grandfather of the present prince, paid a visit to Canada. His mother, Queen Victoria, suggested that while in the western world he make a tour of certain portions of the United States, which he did, naturally coming to Washington. James Buchanan was President of the United States at the time, and the duty of entertaining the royal visitors devolved upon him and the members of his cabinet. It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that Congress never appropriated a cent to defray the expenses of the prince's entertainment. The President and his cabinet footed the bills incident to the reception and entertainment. The expense incident to operating the Harriet Lane, the Mayflower of those days upon which the prince took a sail upon the Potomac and the following day went to Mt. Vernon was met by the executive and his official family.

British royalty was not in much favor in the United States at that time, and while everybody wanted to get a glimpse of Albert Edward enthusiasm was lacking.

The Harriet Lane transported the prince to Mount Vernon. The steamer in passing Alexandria attracted but few persons to the wharves and river front. The Harriet Lane made two trips on the Potomac for the entertainment of the prince. The first was for the purpose of affording Albert Edward an opportunity to view the Potomac upon which Captain John Smith made a trip as high up as Washington; the second was to Mount Vernon the following day. Recently while in Washington our attention was directed to a large picture in a bookstore which represented Albert Edward and his escort and officials of the United States at the tomb of Washington.

Four years later the Harriet Lane had been convertd into a gunboat, and while at Galveston an attack was made by Confederates upon the federal flotilla at that port. The Harriet Lane was captured, and later was converted into a bark. The last we heard of this historic vessel she had run the blockade while loaded with cotten and was well out on the ocean bound for Europe.

THE RUSH TO DINNER

Dickens in "Martin Chuzzlewit" makes a play upon American manners and customs by describing scenes at a New York hotel after the sounding of the dinner gong. He gives a pictue of men tumbling over each other in order to reach the table. His description is, of course, exaggerated.

Josh Billings once called attention to the fact that a dinner horn can be heard a long way on a farm, while it requires the discharge of a cannon to disengage workers in the field from the embrace of Morpheus.

The stampede at the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation's plant when the siren whistle sounds at five o'clock in the afternoon is amusing. In less time than it takes to tell it nearly three thousand men are rushing pell mell for the checking office, and a certain percentage, after emerging from the gate, pack themselves in automobiles, others upon motorcycles and start for their homes. Some reside in Washington; others in Rosemont and other nearby places. Great speed is often given the machines, and there is not a day in which the speed law is not violated.

People living on Fairfax street from Franklin to Prince have at times complained of the danger incident to such speeding, and persons whose houses are between Wolfe and Prince streets have been especially loud. The unnecessary noise made by motorcycles is often complained of. Occasionally individuals charged with speeding on South Fairfax street have been arrested and fined. Yesterday afternoon the police arraigned six violators of the law in the Police Court. They were assessed $5 each. The accused were told that it is not the desire of the authorities to cast any impediment in the way of shipyard workmen, as all rejoice that the plant is located in our city, but that they as well as our own people are expected to obey the laws.

THE FAMILY GARDEN

Germans when they visited this country in past years often called attention to the fact that we failed to utilize resources placed by nature at our doors in the shape of large back yards which are often overrun by weeds and upon which potatoes, cabbage, beans, tomatoes, etc., could be grown with but little effort. In the old countries every foot of land is necessarily cultivated, and the foreigner upon reaching our shores stands aghast when he surveys so much arable land which is allowed to lie idle year after year.

In the early part of the year 1917, when it was seen war with Germany was inevitable, the cry went for the planting of war gardens. Lawns in front of the better class of residences were spaded and staple vegetables planted with the most satisfactory results, while many people in the humbler walks of life procured seed and became gardeners. The ground had been resting for many years and it naturally brought forth abundantly.

In 1818, the war still being in progress, gardens within the city limits were continued with results equally as satisfactory as those of the preceding year. Hostilities ended before the close of 1918, but numbers of Alexandrians who had "farmed" during the first two years continued to do so this year, and today while vegetables are kept at high rates the frugal and industrious are placing upon their tables produce which is bringing good prices in the market and in stores. One or two species of vegetables, which any one can grow, will be mentioned. While lima beans are selling at 75 cents per quart some people in Alexandria are pulling them from their own vines, as they are tomatoes also. Many have raised one crop of potatoes.

The high cost of living is a problem many would be glad to solve. Considerable money could be saved by devoting more attention to our back yards. The government is offering encouragement to all who will till the soil, no matter how small one's area may be.

THE COST OF HIGH LIVING

A few days ago a man dropped into a leading hotel and had luncheon. When he was handed his bill he noticed that a glass of iced tea had cost 30 cents. He became incensed with a sense of injustice. About one cent's worth of tea was in the glass, he said; a fraction of a cent's worth of sugar, another fraction of a cent's worth of ice and still another fraction of a cent's worth of lemon. All told, he figured that the glass of iced tea, for which he was charged 30 cents, had cost three or four cents. He said he was angry, and somewhat volubly, so.

But the manager of the hotel was nervy, and he was a wise manager, who wanted no guests to leave his house in anger. So he talked with the man who had purchased the iced tea at a cost of 30 cents per glass. He told the man that, in figuring the cost of the tea, he should add also the cost of the time of the cook who brewed the tea, and of the cashier to whom the bill was paid. Also, he should add the cost of the use of the utensil in which the tea was brewed, of the glass, spoon and tray used in serving the tea, and of the tray upon which the waiter brought him his change, and to that should add a proper percentage for insurance upon those articles and for breakage. Further, he should add the cost of the use of the table at which he was sitting, and the chair upon which he was sitting, with an addition for insurance and depreciation. Still further, he should add the cost of the use of the large, high, well lighted, handsomely decorated room in which he had his tea, and of the great lobby through which he approached the tea room, with suitable additions for depreciation and insurance. Again, he should add a proportion of the cost of the orchestra which played beautiful music while he drank his tea. Finally, he should add the cost of management and a fair profit upon the whole outlay. And after he had done all of that, he should see whether 30 cents was too high a price for the glass of iced tea which he had drank in that setting.

The moral of all of which is that it is not only the high cost of living that troubles us, but the cost of high living.—(Baltimore Sun.

VALUE OF SAVINGS BECOMES APPARENT

One of Great Lessons of War Is That of National and Individual Thrift, Now Rapidly Growing

Now that the new German government has accepted the inevitable, and has officially signed the peace terms dictated by the allies and the countries associated with them, the greatest and most disastrous war that ever scourged the world is ended.

For nearly five years the world has been topsy-turvy. The things that were needed yesterday are no longer required, and the activities of the great war establishments and munition plants are being diverted to the manufacture of implements of peace.

There must now be a readjustment. Governments that have thought in billions and spent money with a lavish hand, must retrench and think in millions and even smaller amounts, and must gain a new perspective.

Viewed in the retrospect the part played by America in the great world war is one of the most glorious chapters in history. And in the making of this brilliant history the plain American citizen played a stellar role. The mountains of munitions, the equipment for the millions of soldiers, the great ships that carried the men across the ocean, could not have been provided had not the common people of America provided the money.

Much of this money was obtained through the sale of Liberty Bonds and War Savings and Thrift Stamps. This great volume of money has not been wasted. First it brought permanent peace to the world, and now that real peace is here, every cent that was so invested will come back to those who aided their government, and it will come back with interest.

This war that is now happily ended has taught the people the value of saving. They went into the saving game as much through patriotism as anything else. But now that they are reaping the returns, and see that what they did with a patriotic motive is a real foundation for future fortune, they have gained a new confidence in their country, and they will continue to buy the securities the Treasury Department offers, and will make the country many-fold more prosperous than it would have been had not the war instilled the lesson that will prove invaluable in future years.

PAYING OFF THAT MORTGAGE

Theodore Roosevelt said: "Thrift is merely the use of hard common sense in the spending of money." Paying off the mortgage on the installment plan by buying War Savings Stamps is one of the uses of this hard common sense.

Not only does this plan offer a practical way of saving small amounts of money, but small amounts may be earning interest as soon as they are set aside toward the collecting of the larger sum. This interest in turn materially helps to reduce the 6 per cent interest rate commonly charged on mortgages.

When the mortgage comes due it may either be paid off in whole, or in part and renewed, the method of saving through War Savings Stamps being employed until the principal is liquidated.

"May the vast future not have to lament that you neglected it." Buy Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps.

Is the glue on the back of War Savings Stamps flavored with peppermint or wintergreen? Buy one and find out.

CANNOT LOSE MONEY IF INVESTED WISELY

Funds Put Into War Savings Stamps Are Absolutely Safe and Yield Handsome Profit to Holder

Government securities afford the safest and most practical investment in the world. A War Savings Stamp is a promisory note for $5 if redeemed at maturity, or for the original cost of the stamp plus accrued interest if redeemed before maturity.

It was only after America entered the great world conflict that the small wage earner in this country was afforded the opportunity of investing in government securities; of becoming co-partners with the government. That there are today more than 20,000,000 holders of government securities is a fact which speaks for itself.

When you buy a War Savings Stamp you are helping the government. To be able to make a loan to the government, even as small as the sum represented by a War Savings Stamp, is a proof of patriotism and also a practical manifestation of that spirit of national thrift and individual savings which has come to us as a permanent heritage from the war.

WEALTH OF NATION GROWING RAPIDLY

In Washington some of those experts, who are masters of figures and who have a mind attuned to statistics, frequently dig up queer things. One of this type has figured out that the total wealth of the United States is $300,000,000,000. Then he figures out the new wealth produced annually, which he terms "net income." This gets into dizzy figures, too. He estimates that last year the national wealth increased $18,000,000,000, which he admits is going faster than the normal. Another Washington official points out that one of the best ways to conserve this national income in wealth is for individuals to buy War Savings Stamps.

ONE SAFE PLACE FOR LIBERTY BONDS—THE BANK—PUT YOURS THERE

The Cumberland (Md.) Evening Times prints the following, which should be a reminder to all who are now keeping their Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps in boxes around the house, or in broken tea pots or in mattresses:

Mrs. William B. Dever, wife of Fireman-Engineer Dever, Baltimore and Ohio railroad, of Rowlesburg, W. Va., threw $1,650 worth of Liberty Bonds into the Cheat river, back of her home, by mistake, with rubbish she had cleaned from their home. The valuable bonds have not been recovered although a diligent search of the Cheat river bottom in that vicinity has been made.

W. B. Dever's great loss of bonds has a parallel. W. W. Wood, Baltimore and Ohio railroad engineer, lost $150 worth of Liberty Bonds from his pocket. They were a $100 and $50 issue. Engineer Wood intended to deposit the bonds in a local bank. They have not been located.

A laborer unloading a car of coal at Paw Paw, Saturday, found a $100 bond in the coal. It is thought to have dropped from the pocket of a car loader at the mines. The laborer reported the matter to the company's station agent at Paw Paw, it is said, with a view of returning it to its owner.

ARRIVAL OF PRINCE

Lands at Newfoundland Shortly Before Noon Yesterday

St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 13.—The Prince of Wales stepped on Newfoundland soil shortly after noon yesterday. The prince landed at the government pier in a cutter from the cruiser Dragon, to which he had transferred from the cruiser Renown, which brought him from England. He was greeted by dominion, provincial and city officials.

As the Dragon and its escort the Dauntless steamed slowly up the inner harbor between two lines of craft in gala attire they were greeted by the cheers of thousands and the booming of guns.

David Windsor, described as a "healthy wholesale man with light hair, blue eyes and a somewhat plain good-natured face," and better known as his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, is 25 years old, and as heir-apparent of the British throne is the oldest of the five children of King George V and Queen Mary.

He was born June 23, 1894, and according to the royal biographers, received "a careful and common-sense education, mentally and physically, and has never shown simplicity in manner, dress and life." The Prince whose full name is Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David Windsor (his family's favorite name for him is David), has four perhaps, distinguishing characteristics. He carries a cane, is a splendid swimmer and dancer, and is very fond of animals.

The highest dignitary of all the British rulers nearly 400,000,000 subjects, a veteran of the great war—will bear to President Wilson and the people of the United States the expression of the British Empire's appreciation and gratitude for America's participation in the conflict and her part in achieving final victory.

The Prince was a little more than 20 years old when the war broke out and with his younger brother, Prince Albert, entered the military service. He joined the Grenadier Guards at the beginning of hostilities and on November 16, 1914, was appointed an aide-de-camp on the staff of Field Marshal Sir John French. On several occasions he showed courage by going incognito into the trenches in Upper Alsace and on his twenty-first birthnarrowly escaped death by shellfire at Loos. On October 12, 1915, a shell wrecked the motorcar in which he was riding and killed his chauffeur. He escaped injury. Shortly after President Poincare bestowed upon him the Croix de Guerre.

MANY CONCEAL WEAPONS

Danville Magistrate Fines Six in One Day

Danville, Va., Aug. 13.—An unusual number of cases of concealed weapon carrying have been docketed for trial here as a result of recent talk of violence. Six were disposed of Monday, all white men, charged with having loaded pistols or dirks in their possession. Each was fined $33.45 by Mayor Wooding.

In Schoolfield three men were similarly charged before Magistrate R. S. Fitts, who assessed them $20 apiece. The arrest of these men was made by a railway detective before daylight Sunday. He heard shots coming from a clump of pine trees near the railway and on investigating found fully 30 men congregated there. Some were drinking. All ran when they learned an officer was present, but he managed to arrest three, all having pistols in their pockets.

INTERFERED IN FIGHT

Danville, Va., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Geo. Washington Taylor has returned to Danville from Augusta, Ga., where she was called by the killing of her husband some weeks ago. While absent she wound up her husband's estate, valued at several thousand dollars and saw the trial of one of the principals of the shooting affray. According to her account her husband sought to intervene between Charles Cheek and Robert Peeler. Cheek shot and killed Taylor and then Peeler shot Cheek. The woman involved with Taylor, who represented herself as his wife proved to the Mrs. Agnes Elliott, a former resident of this city.

BESTS UNION IN COURT

Engineer Must be Reinstated by Brotherhood, Judge Rose Rules

Baltimore, Aug. 13.—The threatened nation wide railroad strike in 1916 and the circumstances leading up to the passage of the Adamson bill, which averted it, are recalled in an opinion handed down by Judge Rose in United States Court yesterday, granting the petition of Dominic J. Burke for reinstatement as a member of the Monumental Division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and its affiliated beneficial bdies. Burke was expelled from the Brotherhood after he had brought suit to prevent a threatened strike of the trainmen, and Judge Rose's discussion of the facts and law involved is of interest to the 70,000 members of the Brotherhood and also to members of other organizations.

Burke's suit to prevent a threatened strike was brought in Philadelphia and the charge upon which he was expelled was that in bringing it he had violated one of the standing rules of the Brotherhood, which imposes the penalty of expulsion upon any member who by verbal or written communication to railroad officials or others interferes with a grievance that is in the hands of a committee, or at any other time makes any suggestion to any official that may cause discord in any division.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Assertion is Made That Farmers Also Are Victims

To what extent the American farmer is profiteering at the expense of the longsuffering consumer; to what extent this producer is responsible for prevailing economic conditions, and to what extent the Government may safely legislate against his interests are questions which will press for an answer before the cost of living problem is finally worked out.

All this has been anticipated, if not by the individual farmer himself, at least by those Senators who represent him in Washington. And in their solicitude for the welfare of the great body of agriculturists, they have united in a warning to Congress to the President and to all others concerned against any movement that will hamstring the farmer or reduce his earnings below the present margins.

This warning was forthcoming yesterday in the form of a rather extended statement, signed by a score or more of Senators, called into conference by the Committee on Agriculture of the Senate. These legislators, fearful lest the present agitation work against the very source of all food supplies in the country are fearful lest the reaction tend to cut down the volume of foodstuffs produced, have volunteered the assurance that the farmer is not getting more than is coming to him and in some instances is getting far less than he is entitled to.

SHORTAGE IN BANK

Lorain, Ohio, Cashier is Listed as Missing

Lorain, Ohio, Aug. 13.—State Bank Examiners and the board of directors of the City Bank issued a statement at noon yesterday that a shortage of $100,000 has been found in the bank's accounts and that W. W. Treble, of Lorain, assistant cashier of the bank, has absconded.

The officials of the bank declare that the depositors are amply protected by the bank's resources.

PRICES FORCED DOWN

Further Reduction of 10 Per Cent. To Meet Drop Made by Retailers

One of the most painful blows to the high cost of living came yesterday, which amounted to almost a knockout, when Secretary of War Baker announced a further reduction in Government prices on staples household necessities of approximately 10 per cent.

The action of Secretary Baker in forcing prices down further came as a result of a two-day conference between James B. Stafford, Food Commissioner for Buffalo, and E. John O'Malley, Food Commissioner for New York city, with E. C. Morsen, director of sales, and Maj. E. E. Squire, Chief of Ordinance.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the reduction over the original Government prices, it was announced surplus army clothing such as socks, overalls, shirts, towels and men's underwear also would be sold to the public.

"Sales of both food and clothing will be made by parcel post on consignment to the Mayors of cities," stated Commissioner O'Malley. "The Government will ship on consignment accounts, the Mayors merely acting as the agent of the Government looking after the distribution and sale of the goods."

RETAIL MERCHANTS

Richmond, Va., Aug. 13.—"Sit tight and don't rock the boat," was the advice given yesterday afternoon to about 1,200 members of the Southern Retail Merchants' Association, in session here for three days, by the speaker, S. L. Lupton president of the Virginia Good Roads Association.

Lupton declared that if left alone matters of price adjustment in the high cost of living agitation would adjust themselves. The speaker also appealed to the merchants to give their support to the good roads proposition ,to be taken up by the special session of the legislature. He advocated better roads to make better business.

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and seventeen, which is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this Constitution a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act, (passed in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution) provide for the organization and government of cities and towns without regard to, and unaffected by any of the provisions of this article, except those of sections one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five, (except so far as the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-five recognize the office of mayor and the power of veto) one hundred and twenty-six one hundred and twenty-seven and one hundred and twenty-eight of this article and except those mentioned in sub-section (d) of this section. The term "Council" as used in any of said sections shall include the body exercising legislative authority for the city or town, and all ordinances enacted and resolutions adopted by such body shall have the same force and effect for all purposes, as if enacted or adopted in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three of this article. But such organization and government shall apply only to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of those qualified voters of any such city or town voting in an election to be held for the purpose, as may be provided by law.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

PRICE OF SHOES TO DROP

Expected Decline May Not Transpire for Year, However

Boston, Aug. 13.—Predictions of a decided drop in the price of shoes wer made by leather dealers and shoe manufacturers who testified yesterday at the grand jury investigation of the high cost of living being conducted by District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier. The consensus of opinion, however, was that the decline might not come for another year.

Witnesses said that the people demanded a high grade of shoes and were willing to pay for them. One leading firm, it was brought out, had millions of dollars' worth of cheaper grades of sole leather on hand which manufacturers would not buy because it did not came up to the standaard demanded by purchasers of sales.

Former Governor William L. Douglas and Edward P. Douglas were among the shoe manufacturers who were heard yesterday. Hollis P. Davis, president of the Massachusetts Retail Dealers' Association, and other retailers also were interrogated.

The district attorney's office said one man called as a witness, the local representative of a large leather house, declined to testify on the ground that his evidence might tend to incriminate him. Manufactureres, wholesalers and retailers who were questioned all asserted, it was said, that the margin of profit on high grade shoes was no greater today than that received when shoes were selling at a much lower price.

EAT LESS MEAT

Expert Urges Consumption of More Vegetables

New York, Aug. 13.—"Eat more vegetables and cereals and less meat" is the recipe for reducing the high cost of food, brought back from Europe by Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor chief of surveys of the American relief administration.

Britain Dr. Taylor said is already practicing this system. The meat ration has been cut to one-half or one-third of the total food consumption.

The typical American's diet, however, is two-thirds meat and one-third cereals and vegetables.

"America," said Dr. Taylor, "has not yet reacted to the high cost of living as the nation will react. There are no indications that we have begun to eat more bread than before the war and the advent of high prices."

MARINES PARADE

President Reviews 8,000 Heroes of Belleau Woods—Congress Adjourns in Honor

First heroes of the world war to be reviewed in America by President Wilson, the Marine Brigade of the Second Division marched yesterday over Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House.

Thousands lined the historic thoroughfare to greet the men who won undying fame by helping stop the German thrust toward Paris in the darkest hours of the great conflict. Congress paid tribute by adjourning for two hours while the veterans of Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood, Mont Blanc, St. Mihiel and Argonne marched.

In moving that the Senate adjourned, Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, praised the marines as "some of the best and bravest troops in the world."

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134

Practically all members of the Senate and House were gathered in front of the Capitol building to see the marines start along the flag-draped street to be reviewed one mile away by the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and the Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, Secretary Baker and other officials.

This was the last march of the famous brigade, for after the review they entrained for Quantico to be mustered out and bidden farewell by their commander, Brigadier General Wendell C. Neville. LEAGUE IMPLEMENTS OF WAR

Senator Lodge Says Many of Its Features, He, As An American Can Never Accept

Describing the league of nations as a "deformed experiment upon a noble purpose," Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and Republican leader of the Senate, declared in a Senate speech yesterday that there features of the league covenant which "as an American" he never could accept.

Creating not a league of peace but an alliance embracing many "provisions for war," the covenant in its present form, he asserted, would kill the Monroe Doctrine, nullify any possibility of withdrawal from membership, impair the sovereign power of deciding domestic questions and "plunge the United States into every controversy and conflict on the face of the globe."

"Let us beware" he said, "how we palter with our independence. We have not reached the great position from which we were able to come down into the field of battle and help to save the world from tyranny, by being guided by others. Our vast power has all been built up and gathered together by ourselves alone.

"We forced our way upward from the days of the Revolution, through a world often hostile and always indifferent. We owe no debt to anyone except to France in our revolution, and those policies and those rights on which our power has been founded should never be lessened or weakened. It will be no service to the world to do so and it will be of intolerably injury to the United States. We will do our share. We are ready and anxious to help in all ways to preserve the world's peace. But we can do it best by not crippling ourselves.

GRAND THEATRE

At the Grand Theatre tonight Dustin Farnum will be seen in "A Genteleman From Indiana." A Paramount sucess series, also the great E. N. Lincoln, in "Elmo the Mighty."

STRINGENT BILL AGAINST HOARDING

Washington Aug. 13.—Hoarding, selling at unreasonable profits, creating monopolies and restricting the supply of food, fuel, feed or wearing apparel would be punished by a fine of $10,000 or five years' imprisonment under a bill introduced yesterday by Representative Gard (Democrat), Ohio.

The bill also would regulate and control shipments in interstate commerce and give Congress control of sales of necessairse in the District of Columbia, Territories and possessions.

Legitimate transactions on grain exchanges and accumulations by farmers or gardeners, including live-stock farmers, would not be regarded under the measure as instances of hoarding.

GLASS WOULD USE SLEUTHS

Washington, Aug. 13—Treasury secret service operatives would be used in the campaign against food hoarders and profiteers if Congress heeds the request made yesterday by ecretary Glass that $175,000 be provided for the purpose.

With the approval of President Wilson, the Secretary sent a letter to Speaker Gillett asking that the appropriation be made quickly.

GERMANS BITTER ON PROPERTY SEIZURE

Irked By Alien Property Custodian's Report

Washington Aug. 13.—Publication in Germany of the Alien Property Custodian's report dealing with the seizure of enemy property in this country has evoked a storm of press criticism which the American mission in an official cablegram made public yesterday. It is described as "very bitter."

"This comment is probably inspired and may be considered as propaganda," the cablegram said. "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung states the work discloses malice and injustice on the part of adversaries of Germany unexampled in the war. Vossische Zeitung states if Americans of Palmer's makeup have their way, the peace that Germany has will be the peace of the graveyard.

JACKSON PORTRAIT

Pastel Likeness of Confederate Hero Hung in Winchester Library

Winchester, Va., Aug. 13.—A life size pastel portrait of General T. J. ("Stonewall") Jackson, regarded by Confederate war veterans and art critics as one of the most interesting and authentic likenesses of General Jackson in existence, has been placed on exhibition in the Handley Library by Mrs. Juliet A. McCaw, whose husband, the late Dr. Thomas McCaw, owned the portrait.

When Jackson was in camp near Bunker Hill in October or early November, 1862, he came with his staff to dinner one afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Hugh McGuire, the mother of Dr. William P. McGuire, this city, and of the late Dr. Hunter Holmes McGuire, medical director on Jackson's staff.

After dinner he promised Miss Gettie McGuire to have his photograph taken, and walked to Rouzahn's gallery, where the photograph was made. From this photograph Bradley, of Baltimore, made a life-sized pastel, portrait that was brought to Winchester nearly fifty years ago by Dr. McCaw. Very few persons knew of its presence here until it was placed on exhibition in the Handley Library a day or two ago.

It hangs in the rotunda and is directly opposite the portrait of the late Judge John Handley, of Scranton, Pa., who was attracted to Winchester through his admiration for the military genius and manly qualities of Jackson.

YOUR CATARRH MAY LEAD TO CONSUMPTION

Dangerous to Use Treatment for Only Temporary Relief.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications.

S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source. Get a bottle today, begin the only logical treatment that gives real results. For free medical advice write Medical Director, 47 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Now Is the Time to Advertise

PRESENT ADVERTISERS — Increase your space.

PROSPECTIVE ADVERTISERS—Bring your plans to a head and start advertising immediately.

Advertising began as an afterthought of business, but became the forethought. Just as it was a part of the forethought of war that insured victory, so advertising must become the forethought of peace to insure prosperity.

Advertising Anticipates; Advertising Discounts; Advertising Compels. Advertising is the surest, quickest, and most economical selling force known to industry to-day.

The power of an idea multiplied in millions of minds moves governments —or goods—as the case may be.

The Department of Labor urges more advertising by merchants and manufacturers to insure the present prosperity of the Nation.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
